

TELHAMAHIGH / FILE-CONSEDEMENT-TOTURYING-KEVIN-MIRANDA.aspx The unconstitutional reform is being planned despite a recent non-partisan poll showing that 68% of voters agree with the military-state solution to Iraq. Under the plan, ISIS would be dragged out of its country, and Iraq would then be ruled through one or several administrations, the AFP said. In addition to Mr Assad, the Arab League has been slated to lay a road map into the country, with the United States and the United Kingdom to lead the civic assembly that will set the stage for the new governance. The plan is being implemented with the support of the United Nations and would last until the end of the current Iraqi government. There's no evidence that the conditions are even in place to have a formal assembly process. Mr Assad loyalist groups are concerned that the plan could be used to weaken the Syrian opposition in the aftermath of a civil war that is now in its sixth year. With more than 250,000 people killed in the war, it is now morally reprehensible and destructive for the world to ignore the ongoing humanitarian catastrophe that is destroying Iraqi civilians. Anti-Western forces such as the United Arab Emirates have also reacted with dissent to the plan. Copyright © 2019 The Washington Times, LLC. Click here for reprint permission.
