Re-Loader.exe One Click Tool for Microsoft Office/Windows Activation/Re-Loader.exe. In my final project in college, I had to create an installer for a web based application. This web based application was given to us as the web application was not given to us as code or a html document. As part of this app, there were some plugins which required activation. The plugin would sign the app using a certificate. This certificate would be installed onto our PC. Now each time that user would use the app, the app would need to verify that the certificate was installed and was a sintalled and was a valid. The only way to do this is to use the feature where you can specify a file to be used to check if the certificate is valid. So I used to do this is to use the feature where you can specify a file to be used to check if the certificate is valid. So I used to see the feature where you can specify a file to be used to check if the certificate is valid.
