In the last however long, this is the software you upload every photo you take, every edit you make, every screen you live-stream, every presentation you throw together, every photo retouching you do for friends, every watermark you apply to protect your intellectual property. You license this product for $500/seat per year to house this often complex software. To be sent a sandbox - a free but crippled version of Photoshop, containing only the basic toolset. To be sent a trial copy, to be sent a full version, to be sent a version which includes neither the original nor the trial version. If your business requires people to work in secret, you need different software. Even back around CS2 (or maybe it was Photoshop 7), Photoshop recognized if you were scanning money, showed you a warning box, and refused to open it. Since Adobe knows who you are, it's trivial for Adobe to send the Secret Service your personal information and physical location in real-time if they choose to. Adobe knows what you're doing because Photoshop is talking to Adobe over the Internet in the background; that's how activation works. Run many days offline, and the program will stop running until you go online again for it to validate and swap data. Nice review but after upgrading to LR5.2 RC I think performance is better than with LR4. Working on a project with 1500 D800 NEFs my impression is that the smart previews increase speed while working in the Developer mode – in Lib. mode however everything slows because the JPEG previews are used. So far I am not sure how the Jpegs are used as previews

when you have the smart previews (DNGs) available. But have to say that I am happy with 5.2 RC although I will say bye-bye to LR the day they make it part of CC. Regards! Sren
