The Blue Yeti uses a sophisticated audio processing solution called "The Broke Yeti". It's not just an ordinary audio processor. It's got some of the most unusual audio processing that you've ever seen or heard. This is a good thing since it's a power amp, so you get professional audio processing without the hardware you need! Just connect your headphones or turntable, and you're ready to rock. What's this? The Blue Yeti comes with a special deck that connects to your computer via USB. The Yeti is the only way to go for recording audio. That's the way it was meant to be! The Yeti lets you record at higher sample rates than your computer can handle. You can also record at lower sample rates that the Yeti can handle, with the proper equipment. The Yeti also comes with loads of headphone and microphone capabilities, so you can record your favorite songs with your friends, perform with your band, record interviews, or add effects without a mixer.
