

Can someone please send me a link to the full version of winols.ru/main.php. A very interesting topic. Although I lost that beauty with the plugin, I was inspired by the idea. I would like to know what you can do. Good luck in the competition. If not difficult, you can download it to see what happened. It is a little not correct, in one article something very thick turned out. Do not send to hosting, probably it will be open there. Lina, thank you very much! The plugin is really very useful and interesting! I myself didn't know what CSS triggers were, and when I set them up, I was very surprised: the picture looks different anywhere on the page. And the latest version of the plug-in so generally changes the picture to the full one. And not only in the basement, but also in any part of the site. I really liked your "jokes" with the mirror. I didn't understand a little, you yourself wrote that the script will show it all the time, or is it all on purpose to draw pictures from different angles? Somehow I doubt that two pictures located exactly at the same angle will not look good. Olya, everything is going according to plan. It's just that in the last post, the affiliate program specifically showed all the errors that the site was cheated. Because of this, the future is already a completely different vision. As for the article itself, I rewrote it. After all, I went through the lessons, also read a couple of books on wp and design, read specialized blogs. Thank you for the article. I would also look at the plugin code, only there are a lot of them, so you will be very useful! Olga, thank you for your comment and for such a useful site! ))) Not so long ago (this month) I created my own website (so that you can do business, and not just hang around at home). And in order not to waste time on all sorts of nonsense, I found a couple of interesting sites. I liked that different versions of the site differ in design (you can choose the option you like), it is also possible to insert your own pictures into the text. But please don't take it as advertising, but I like this site the most. To be honest, I have been referring to him for several days, wondering how he managed to get indexed in search engines. Of course, I don't use the comment code, but put the hook in the right place (in the first post). But, it can be changed, I think. You probably know who is now engaged in affiliate programs. Maybe he
