Overview Multiplier Mayhem is a frantic head-to-head shooter which combines colorful visuals, fast-paced gameplay and intense multiplayer mayhem. In a post-apocalyptic future, humanity has been split into two factions: the survivors and, the LUNX, a highly intelligent, robotic race that has decided to eradicate humanity, but somehow, the LUNX get their hands on one of the human-like creatures and get the upper hand. The survivors are left with three choices to survive: 1. Destroy the LUNX 2. Resist them 3. Merge with them Everyone in the game lives in one big city where the survivors and the LUNX are constantly fighting for control of the city. Your job as the player is to enter buildings, destroy the LUNX and survive. In the online multiplayer modes, players take on the role of either the LUNX or the human-like creatures and will work together with their team to control the city. You can also choose to fight against other players solo in game. The graphics, audio and game mechanics of this game are inspired by the successful "Gears of War" franchise. Gameplay The key to success in this game is the co-operation between the human-like creature and his "gang", as he is able to use it for reconnaissance. Most of the human-like creatures have easy ways to get into structures, such as a door or stairway. The problem comes when other players also want to be sneaky. The gang will warn you if other players are going to enter your building, and will slowly sneak up on them and attack with a variety of weapons. If you're in a building with a gang, you should try to equip your gang member with a weapon and protect them so they can do their work. You can also equip your gang with armor or high-tech weapons. Players can use a variety of weapons, such as machine guns, anti-tank missiles, laser rifles, sniper rifles and even ninja stars! Bandages can be healed by the "sheriff", and will restore health and mana, but may not work against bullet wounds. Armor is a great way to keep players from shooting you, but must be taken off at the owner's discretion. A grenade is also useful, but it will cause other players to lose sight of you for a while. The three types of grenades are regular, flash and proximity. Shooting the LUNX will c9d1549cdd
