Well, you've probably heard of space before but are you ready to take your love of bananas into outer space! Kissing your loved one in space is all fun and games until you realize you're in space. International Space Banana is a physics based space-racing game where you take control of a banana as it leaves earth and guides it through the space-o-sphere whilst evading enemy space-boats. International Space Banana will transport you into a banana's-eye-view of future space racing through 50 levels across 6 worlds whilst striving to avoid a banana's-eye-view of your own impending doom. About Space Banana: Space Banana is a timeless slice of skill-based amusement with old school arcade sensibilities and fresh light-hearted graphics. Using your mouse, you'll guide your banana through a banana's-eye-view of outer space, racing to make it to the finishing line before you're devoured by a giant space-eater or caught in the gravitational pull of space-o-matter that threatens to pull you into the black hole at the center of all things. As you play, you will encounter perilous black holes, exploding bananas, enemy space-boats, deadly space dust, and the dreaded -SPACE-O-SPHERE. Space Banana will transport you into an eye-catching blend of orange, space and awesome gameplay! Can you kiss your loved one in outer space? The fully orchestrated soundtrack to "Sakuna: Of Rice and Ruin" was performed by artists all over Japan, from Tokyo to Kyoto, including an all-female violin quartet. This album re-creates this in-game action drama brought to life through the power of music. Play as both the hero and heroine of the game with jobs and skills that suit each character's approach to the action. Fight alongside a dynamic cast of characters through 50 lavish scenes, each with its own story and ending. The game is divided into 3 main storylines, as well as 5 side-stories called "events". In this work, Ryu Kato from Sakuna: Of Rice and Ruin is producing the soundtrack, while Nobuo Iga from the writer's commentary is the sound supervisor, and Hitoshi Kobayashi, the original music composer, is the composition supervisor. Features: Music of this game consists of 4 main genres: Classical, Folk, Rock and Ambient. The instrumental version of the song "Furusato no Watashi" (ふるさとのわたくし), a traditional Japanese folk song, has achieved #1 status on the Japanese download site iTunes, and is a #1 hit on Japanese radio. "Hibuta-tachi no Yorimotachi" is a song composed for the event "Kisu to Taiyou ni Awaitayo" (きすといよひにたいようを待ちかたむけよう) in the game. The violin-playing character named "Kisu" (きす, きす) is featured in this event. "Obi-zure no Kioku" is a song in the event "Sakuna to Sukuna no Hanayome" (さくなとすくなのはなよめ) in the game. "Obi-zure no Kioku" (おびずれのきおく), a folk song, is a song by Ishikawa Sayuri (いしかわ さゆり) based on the true love story of Nobuko Sakuma and Yoshiaki Sawai (さくま のぶこ, さわい よしあき) from "Sakuna: Of Rice and Ruin". What's new:

"Schadenfreude" by Okiura Takao Composition TAKAO OPENER THEME "INDIANS WIN" by Taku Iwasaki Opening Composition TSUTAYA He had just watched as a meteor fell onto the country he called home. No one really knew it was a comet heading for a collision with Earth. Governments were destroyed as history was about to change. As the young boy from New York grew up, he looked like anyone else's kid but he had one set of talents. Freedom of speech. He knew the truth and his words were worth gold. Before long, he would have his hands on the power of the internet. It didn't take long for others to recognize his genius. For the first time in history, the world wanted something completely new. This was a world in which no one knows how the power balance would play out. This world also had god-like technology. This was the new world. A world in which only a few will live. And he was right at the center. This country was indeed divided and he alone would be their hero. Any fight won by him would mean the beginning of all new power struggles. Or would it be the end for everyone else? Grissia is a genius inventor. She has mainly devoted herself to gathering a team of people from all over the world. Those who can solve the problems in her world, which is so similar to human society. She is also a perfectionist and constantly searches for the limits of human evolution. There are many projects in this story that only Grissia and her group can do; they all exist only within the world of Grissia Phantom. The group is a common term to describe the many people who are working together on every project under her command. ASAH SAKIRA Twenty-four-year-old college freshman. He and Grissia are childhood friends and also work together at the same research institute in Germany, where he has been working on protein research. After the beginning of the manga, he and Grissia's relationship reaches a peak. The truth is that he is attracted to her as she is a woman who isn't afraid of speaking her mind. He loves to read and would like to discuss more complicated things with Grissia. He also dares to copycats her. He has guessed her thoughts before she has

The 'teddy bear' of diesel-hydraulic locomotives is now available for Train Simulator in its original British Rail Green livery. The single six-cylinder engine locomotives were built in the mid-1960s by BR's Swindon Works, with the intention of working in shunting yards and short distance freight trains. Initially, 26 models were ordered in January 1963, expanded to 56 later that year. The mid-cab locomotives resembled the Clayton Type 1 (Class 17), but had a fixed wheel configuration - 0-6-0 - rather than bogies. The Class had an extremely short working life, not because of reliability but mainly because the duties for which they were originally intended starting to diminish. However, their usefulness as shunting engines and top speed of 40mph (64 km/h) saw many sold to private industries such as iron and coal companies. The disappearance of these industries saw many models move to preserved railways in the UK, with five being exported to Belgium and Spain. Unusually, D9504 was leased in 2005 from the Kent & East Sussex Railway to work on High Speed 1 around London, marshalling construction trains used during building of the route. The Class 14 for Train Simulator is a former Iron Horse House model, which has been updated to TS2014 standard, including new scenarios and improved exterior modelling. The locomotive is available in BR Green livery and includes 5 Plank wagons, 7 Plank wagons and BR Brake Vans.
