Our forum is dedicated to homebrew game developers. It is here that you will find discussions on all aspects of game development - game design, programming, mapping, programming, beta testing, retail, and much more! When switching to multiple monitors and changing the primary monitor, OSX sometimes hangs and doesn't react anymore. It's all because the primary monitor gets assigned 0xffffffff as all other monitors get assigned different input devices. Solution was to enable duplicate screen, i.e. click+hold on icon in the task bar, then right click and select "Duplicate Screen". After joining a game online with a new username and then logging off my current account, the new username does not show up as an available user in the game under the list of players online. The new username shows up on the PlayStation Network and the other games I have with my PSN account on it. Does anyone else have this problem? I have a 300 GB internal hard drive that I would like to convert to a hard drive (I'm using a USB keyboard at the moment). I would like to do this using Windows but am only running the Safe Mode version of Windows 7. Does anyone have any recommendations on how to do this as I am unable to use Disk Management in Safe Mode? Hello I've got a problem connecting to my friends online. I have logged into NFO_M.com and my friends name is in the list but when I click on it, it says an error has occurred. I've tried several different browsers and is still the same message. Does anyone know why this might be? Hello I've just installed Ubuntu 12.04 on my computer but now the mouse won't show up on the screen after I installed the NVIDIA driver. This doesn't happen when I connect to my computer through Windows. I tried reinstalling but it's still happening. I have a PS3 and PC with a USB cable. When I installed Bluetooth driver for Windows 8, the PS3 couldn't use my Bluetooth. I have tried to reset the PS3, and tried to search for it. I have also tried uninstalling drivers from the PC side. No success. This problem started recently, and I'm not sure what's causing it. When I turn the PS3 on, I usually hear a "beep" sound for several seconds (I think this is the PS3 interface) followed by nothing. I can hear the "beep" sound through 595f342e71
