A: You will need to do a lot of research to find out the best compressed file formats for game data. You can get a lot of info from the Wikipedia page on data compression. I found this article on the compression of game data to be a good starting point. Tuesday, May 8, 2009 "House of Cards" and "A Few Good Men" are just two of many incredible indie films you can see at the Birmingham Film Festival this weekend. Next weekend is the final weekend of the Birmingham Film Festival, but festivalgoers don't have to wait too long to see why it's one of the state's best. Aspiring filmmakers are welcome to walk in to the third annual festival, and festival director Chuck Robbins will gladly sit down with them to tell them everything about this weekend's festivities. Robbins has worked with the festival for more than 20 years, and he's done it from the ground up. He's the best at finding films and the best at making sure the Birmingham community has the opportunity to see the best as well. The festival kicks off at the BJCC Arena Cinema at 6 p.m. on Thursday, May 9. "A Few Good Men" Who was the best movie of 1992? Thanks to all who bought the game. But the money spent on this game will not be wasted, as it goes to the Korean Association Against Cancer. You also get a signed CD which was made for the campaign. If you have not yet bought the game you can get the CD free from the game store. After the release of the game I have had a lot of positive feed back about it, and I even got some critic and compliments. Here are some of them from the critics: - Su-chan from MIND Magazine - "Sometimes it's nice to look at a game's map and say "ok this is a special place" - because then I can take my imagination to different places. The game has a lot of nice atmosphere". - Jason Boehbmer - "You know why I like Sinister: it's because the story is well-crafted and grounded in a quirky, twisted universe of paranormal action. It's a little odd, but you can't help but be drawn in. Atmosphere is key. Sinister has it, without the scenery or other distractions. Sinister is a great shooter with a fine horror design." - William Grover-Martin - "Sinister is a solid game that I'd recommend for lovers of the bullet hell genre." - Gathry Muangsuvan - "Sinister: Blood in the Palace is easily my favorite release of the year. It's chock full of great action and entertaining writing. The game's thoughtful pacing and layers of hell add to the package." - Jennifer Gunter - "Sinister: Blood in the Palace is an impressive story that combines top-notch writing, graphics and animation with a classy soundtrack and a little food for thought. ... This game is one of the best I've played in a long time". - Spar&nslash - "Sinister: Blood in the Palace is one of the best games that I have played on Steam" - C.D. Slater - "It is truly a solid, well-balanced game that stays true to what could have only been a niche title, but is very much worth your time and money". - Niek Koot - "Just an amazing story and the level design and animation are mind blowing". - Andy Meek - "... it will blow your mind". by two or more eigenvalue multiplicities are called eigen spaces. The product space is a very often utilized eigen space. Existence of Eigen Spaces Eigen spaces always exist. Eigen values and vectors of a given matrix are guaranteed to have some kind of a characteristic that needs to be probed. Eigen spaces are used to transform any original eigen vector into the eigen space. The product space is a special type of eigen space. Formulae Let D be a square matrix such that $D^{2} = D$. Suppose k be an eigen value of D with d (0 or -1) as a corresponding eigen vector. The following equations hold : $$k^{n}d = \lambda^{n}d, n =1,2,3,4,5...$$ Let A and B be two square matrices such that $A^{2} = B^{2} = A = B$. Let k be an eigen value of B with λ as its corresponding eigen vector. The following equations apply : $$kA^{n}B = \lambda A^{n}B \quad n = 1,2,3,4,5...$$ The product space $P_{B}(k,A)$ of A and B is a eigen space of B with eigen value k. $$kA^{n}B = P_{B}(k,A)A^{n}B \quad n = 1,2,3,4,5...$$ Notation Let S be a square matrix and λ be an eigen value of S. Then $n \lambda$ is the eigen value of S^{n}. In the following exercises, you will try to find its eigen values and eigen vectors. Exercise 1 Here is an example of the 2x2 matrix A which has the eigen value $\lambda = -2,$ the corresponding eigen vector is $\left(\begin{array}{c}4\\5 \end{array}\right)$. Determine the
