According to the police, on October 16, 2013, the unidentified 25-year-old carpenter went out for work and left his vehicle unlocked overnight while he was working on a house. When the carpenter returned from work the next day, his vehicle was unlocked with the doors open, and the keys to the vehicle were inside the car. Police said the keys were stolen and were later used by someone who had stolen thousands of dinars from the customer. Police said they believe the thief was the same man who stole from a former customer, who reported the theft to the police. The suspect has been identified and is being investigated. Police urged people not to leave vehicles unlocked overnight as it could allow thieves to enter the vehicles. Kirkuk has become a hotbed for the issue of car thefts, with about 8,000 cars being stolen in the city in the first quarter of this year alone.Tesla, Ford, GM, Toyota, Honda, and Kia were slammed for keeping production and sales losses to a minimum, but VW blew it when it announced it would ff5e5ca8c9
